

Odds & Ends

Phenominoes made by physically disabled women

At the Sun-Gazette, we often receive product samples and press releases from companies promoting their new and unusual items. We thought we'd tell you about some of these new products in the hopes that one of these "odds and ends" will be right for you or someone you know.

• Phenominoes Pendant — This real domino necklace features phenomenal artwork produced by the acclaimed blind painter Ketra Oberlander, who is breaking through in the artwork licensing field and earning independent income via this notable product and others.

Also
t h e founder

of Art of Possibility Studios, Oberlander's award-winning paintings have been featured on ABC's "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition" and have otherwise enjoyed widespread acclaim.

Phenominoes feature extraordinary works of art on real dominoes, created by physically disabled artists.

In addition to adding a unique twist to any ensemble, this meaningful fashion accessory also helps support disabled artists in their quest to become financially self-sufficient.

Each pendant in Phenominoe's new 27-piece Art of Possibility Studios collection is accompanied by a color-coordinated ribbon necklace and a special clasp making the pendants interchangeable from one necklace to another.

"With these unique pendants, consumers can satisfy their desire for novel, fashion-forward accessories while simultaneously shopping their deeply held values of compassion and inclusion, in this case supporting the disabled artist community in their quest for financial self-sufficiency," Oberlander said. "For a very modest cost, people can have wearable art that's pretty, fun and serves a greater good."

Phenominoes are $26.95 each and may be bought at <http://aopstudios.com/store.php>.

For more information about Oberlander's Art of Possibility Studio, visit aopstudios.com.

