Annie Handbags

Annie Handbags are handcrafted in Chicago from the finest quality skins and are limited runs to ensure exclusivity and superior detailing. The collection is carried in luxury boutiques, galleries and museums nationwide, from a collection of exotic crocodile, python, ostrich and stingray in bright, bold colors. Inspired by her heritage, designer Annie Diamantidis gets her inspiration from Greek Goddesses. Annie Handbags have become celebrities red carpet go-to accessories for celebrities such as Angelina Jolie, Jodie Sweetin and Kalsea Ballerini.

Pop Bag USA Customizable Handbags

Pop Bag USA was born in Tuscany and produced in Florence, Italy by local craftsmen whose unique and unparalleled workmanship ensures the utmost standards with the highest quality pebbled and Saffiano leather options. This bag is custom-buildable with different components allowing you to mix, match and exchange each front and back panel to achieve your desired (and ever-evolving) look. Design the bags based on your destination, mood or the season. Change colors, materials and hardware. Or, if you want it done for you, there are ready-to-wear bags, from totes, mini-bags and backpacks, to phone bags and envelopes. With locations all around the world, from France and Germany, to Hong Kong and beyond, Pop Bag has now opened its first U.S. location.

Dooney & Bourke 'Caldwell' Design Handbags

The Caldwell Collection from Dooney & Bourke exemplifies understated elegance. These chic, structured bags created from python-embossed leather are refined with a touch of glam, courtesy of the gold-plated hardware embellishment. One option from the line is the Caldwell Flynn Handbag, which features rich textures of that python-embossed leather that elevates this fashion-forward bag. Inside there's a light, twill lining — a bright pop of red. Aside for its aesthetics, what I adore about this handbag is that it's extremely roomy, with the main compartment holding an abundant amount, while also keeping you organized, courtesy of deep-set pockets. For an effortless polish, day or night, Caldwell bags are a great choice for the season.
