JUNE 2018

A photograph of a young woman with short, blonde hair, smiling and making a hand gesture (possibly a peace sign or a similar pose) at a concert or festival. She is wearing a dark, sleeveless top. The background is blurred, showing other people and lights. Overlaid on the image is a large, stylized graphic that reads "POP GOES THE WOO". The word "POP" is in large, white, sans-serif capital letters. The words "GOES THE WOO" are in smaller, white, sans-serif capital letters, arranged in three lines and enclosed within a black circle that is positioned between the two large "P"s of the word "POP".

CODE TO CANVAS JEWELRY

Bring jewelry to life with Code to Canvas, the world's first augmented reality jewelry company. They've extended the experience of jewelry by making it engaging and interactive, connecting people through a shared experience. Bring your jewelry to life by (1) downloading the app, (2) scanning the jewelry with the app and (3) bringing it to life! The design signals to your phone's camera, which detects the unique design and triggers a response in your phone. The more you do it, the better your camera will recognize the marker. There are no wires inside the pendants, which are composed of three pieces: a pendant that is .999 fine silver or 24k gold-plated, a glass insert to secure the marker and a trained marker that will trigger an augmented reality experience. Starting at $27.25, codetocanvas.com.

For each box sold, $5 is donated to MomBomb.org, an organization that helps struggling mothers in need of support. The box itself is a display-worthy showpiece that's sure to delight the lucky woman who receives it. The colorful and wonderfully fragrant bath bombs will color her water (but not her tub). $29.99, amazon.com.
