'The Lawyer in Blue Jeans' Jeff Isaac Named Keynote Speaker for the Pastors and Clergy Association's International Financial Business Conference Being Held in San Diego September 2009

Isaac to address upwards of 3,300 attendees on 'economic survival' as it pertains to protecting and proliferating individual, family and business finances

SAN DIEGO, CA, April 21, 2009 –The Lawyer in Blue Jeans Group (www.lawyerinbluejeans.com) today announced that its founder and principal attorney Jeff Isaac, 'The Lawyer in Blue Jeans' as seen and heard weekly on KUSI and 760 KFMB-AM, has been named as the keynote speaker for the Pastors and Clergy Association's International Business Conference to be held at San Diego's Manchester Grand Hyatt September 8-11, 2009, with more than 3,300 invited to attend.

The Pastors and Clergy Association is a Christian group of business professionals working together to provide solutions and information assistance through affiliate programs. The 2009 Conference is a premier networking and learning opportunity where pastors, church organizations and professional leaders from around the world share information and learn how to conduct business more effectively to reach financial goals.

"Those attending Jeff Isaac's address will benefit from his keen insight and legal perspective on how to safeguard and strengthen personal and business finances amid a recession, which is a major topic of interest," said Sheila Rusco, president and CEO of Here for You Events, LLC, which is organizing the conference for the Association. "Attendees will leave this keynote address with tactical information to help them best weather the economic storm, both personally and professionally. Jeff's expertise with the subject matter, coupled with his extensive experience speaking to groups on the topic, made him a perfect choice for this all-important keynote."

As a successful attorney practicing law in Southern California for more than 30-years, Jeff Isaac regularly conducts free financial seminars in the region as a community service to help area residents and business professionals fiscally survive and thrive. Toward this end, Jeff recently announced that, throughout 2009, he is available to personally conduct 'Economic Survival' and 'Loan Modification' seminars on-site at business and organizational establishments throughout Southern California, offered at no charge to the company, organization and/or attendee for groups of 20 or more in San Diego, or 40 or more in other counties. Jeff is also available to conduct keynotes, seminars, workshops, panel discussions and other public speaking engagements outside of the Southern California region for a nominal fee.

“My keynotes and on-site group seminars on personal and business finance topics such as loan modifications, estate planning, living trusts and financial solvency give businesses and organizations an opportunity to actually exhibit the care and concern they have for employees, members, affiliates and others in their network, cultivating trust and building morale in the process,” Isaac notes.

Those event managers, visitor and convention bureaus, businesses and other organizations interested in booking Jeff Isaac for a free on-site seminar may submit date availability inquiries and information requests via email at freeseminar@lawyerinbluejeans.com or via telephone at 1-800-8-IMPACT.
