The screenshot shows a web browser window with the MoneyWeek website. The browser's address bar displays the URL <http://moneyweek.com/profit-from-the-golden-age-of-television/>. The page features a large orange banner for Spread Co. with the text "Become a Great British Spread Bettor" and "Find out more at spreadco.com". Below this is the MoneyWeek logo and a promotion for "12 ISSUES OF MONEYWEEK FOR JUST £12". The navigation menu includes "Home", "Investments", "Prices & Charts", "Property", "Gold", "Trading", "Economy", "How To Invest", "Personal Finance", and "Blog". A "Hot topics" section lists "Merryn's blog", "Donald Trump", "House prices", "Brexit", "General election", and "Tech stocks". The article "Profit from the golden age of television" is the main focus, written by Dr. Matthew Partridge on 17/08/2017. The article image shows a grid of various images including a man's face, a superhero, and a woman. To the right of the article are three related articles: "The charts that matter suggest that investors are nervous" by John Stepek, "US stocks may be more overvalued than they've ever been before" by John Stepek, and "Leaving the Customs Union could cause border chaos" by Dr. Matthew Partridge. At the bottom, there is a cookie consent banner and a Windows taskbar with the date 8:01 AM 8/21/2017.
