From the sought-after industry leader to the person who's unanimously approved for the promotion, people with great reputations seem to have an easier time at success. But their status doesn't happen overnight or by chance. The first step in being that person everyone admires is to do what you say you're going to do. "You can have a reputation of being friendly or nice, but if you don't get it over the finish line, your reputation will suffer," says Grace Killelea, CEO and founder of the women's leadership program Half the Sky. 5. REACH ALL OF YOUR GOALS

People with healthy ambition harness it so that it fires them without burning those around them. To harness your ambition and reach all of your goals, avoid the trap of comparing yourself with others, and measure success only against what you are capable of achieving.
