REAL GIFTS FOR BBQ

The Octopus Tap

One, Two, Three...Four
That's the number of people who can fill up from the keg at the same time with the Octopus Keg Tap ($79.99). Not only do you cut down on initial foam, but you increase the output by a whopping 300%. And when you're talking about more beer and tailgating, that's a very good thing.

Need a few more toys? Of course you do. Here's where to start to make sure you're set for tailgating season.

Pump Up the Volume

Don't compromise your sound quality to party by the pool. From the company that brought weatherized speakers to the market, OWI's Little Rocker speakers ($299 per rock) can weather the toughest conditions and continue to sound great year after year. 8 Ohms, 70 volts, they are constructed of glass fiber, concrete construction material that can withstand bugs, pets, lawnmowers and most of your friends.

You Can't Please Everybody

But you sure can try – especially the ladies. At your next BBQ, use the Sonos Bundle 130 ($999), a portable, wireless system that lets you play whatever music you (or your guests) want, in each room, all at the same time. You can even set an alarm to start/stop or change the music whenever you want. It's controlled with a handheld controller and you have access to all your Rhapsody and Napster accounts, internet radio or personal music collections. You can also hook up your iPod. So now you can at least play all the right music, pleasing the ladies is up to you.

Impress the Boss

The next time you need a nifty and impressive gift for the guy who signs your paycheck, order a "Hole in One" Gift Bucket ($50) from I'd Rather Be Grilling! It includes the "I'd Rather Be Grilling!" Golfer's Cookbook, a set of three custom-blended savory grill rubs (Spicy Chipotle, Sweet Ginger Garlic and Savory Herb) and an embroidered apron and grill mitt – all in a metal golf range bucket. It's the perfect combo of sports and entertainment.
