1 PRIDE ON A PLATE

Take your school spirit on the road with this open Pewtorex (aluminum-alloy) frame from Olde Country Reproductions, which keeps the entire license plate visible, touching none of the lettering or inspection stickers. Olde Country Reproductions Inc., (724) 545-9547 or (717) 848-1859, www.pewtorex.com. NACS member

2 WEAR YOUR HEART ON YOUR SLEEVE

Project Iris produces "socially conscious" women's casual apparel in soft burnout fabric and ring-spun cotton decorated with original artwork. Five percent of all sales goes to the World Food Program to help provide meals for new mothers and their children in impoverished regions of the globe. Made in the USA. Project Iris Clothing, (513) 489-5683, www.projectirisclimbing.com.

3 ON THE BORDER

Adding a quotable frame transforms any quotable card into an instant gift. The variety of card and frame combinations creates a wide range of custom gift options for every occasion. Quotable, (212) 420-7552, www.quotablecards.com. NACS member

4 MANY THANKS FOR TINY TANKS

Desk Pets International's microrobotic TankBot has three separate modes that let it roam free, navigate mazes, and—using a free downloadable iPhone, iPad, iPod touch, and Android mobile device app—be fully controllable by your Apple iOS or Android mobile device. With a built-in USB charger, there's no shelling out for batteries either. Desk Pets International (HK) Ltd., (978) 948-3601 (U.S. distributor Schylling), www.mydeskpets.com.

5 WEED OUT THE FAUX GREEN

The Ultrascan 2600 counterfeit detector from Cashscan integrates a combination of custom-designed sensors in a single unit capable of detecting the most sophisticated counterfeit notes, including previously undetectable "Supernotes." Simple to operate, Ultrascan determines an inserted bill's authenticity in less than a second. Cashscan Corp., (718) 258-0006, www.cashscan.com.
