INGREDIENTS

1/2 lemon
1 ounce bourbon
1/2 ounce Pumpkin Spice SweetShine
1 cup hot tea

INSTRUCTIONS

Combine all ingredients in a glass mug and serve hot.

If you’re as ready as we are for fall cocktails, Halloween, fire pits, scarves, boots and the like, you’ll love this issue. Our men’s and ladies style pages feature luxurious must-have boots, scarves and made-to-order sunglasses (pages 12 and 50). What fun it was to take a look back at Halloween costumes from our younger years in “Scare Wear” (page 16) when most costumes were home-made. A surprise jewel was finding the only purse museum in the U.S.—the ESSE Purse Museum which also has a retail store onsite, “ESSE Purse Museum” (page 11). And no true Longhorn fan would pass on having a fire pit that has a longhorn cut-out on the sides, “Fired Up” (page 21).

Cilantro and onions and peppers, “oh my!” We’ve been salivating ever since we decided to feature Tex-Mex restaurants in this issue. For those who have contemplated turning around after seeing a packed parking lot at a small town Tex-Mex restaurant, “Tex-Mex Trail” (page 27) is a must-read for you. Prefer barbecue? Mosey on over to “Country ‘Cue” (page 40) to see who has bragging rights for Texas barbecue joints.

If you’re a “Game of Thrones” fan, then “Travel Game of Thrones Style” (page 58) will mentally transport you to exotic locations where the Unsullied and the White Walkers marched. Researching for this feature was a blast and provided us virtual travel to some of the most exotic locations around the world. And lucky you because there are a multitude of specialty travel organizations who have a “Game of Thrones” tour awaiting your call. Who knew there were fans like us that dream of walking on the snowy lands where the White Walkers roam?
