

Teen acne: the scars go more than skin deep

As if being a teen weren't stressful enough, suicidal thoughts are almost twice as common in adolescents aged 18-19 years who have substantial acne, reports dermatologist Dr. Tess Mauricio, citing a recent study by the University of Oslo. Heavy acne is commonly associated with mental, social and health problems, so if your teen grandchild has acne, they'll need extra family support.

always with

To order

For a t

Exclusive GR Purchase you www.PennyL receive a free

Gmail - Christine Re...

GRAND Magazine - ...

Document1 - Micro...

Document2 - Micro...