MY CAT WON'T BARK! (A RELATIONSHIP EPIPHANY)

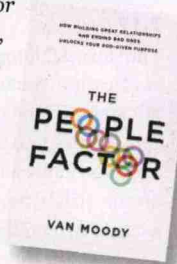

How many times has a friend claimed she's found the one, only to end up heartbroken? Bad choice again, girlfriend. Set her on the right track with Kevin Darné's enlightening book My Cat Won't Bark! (A Relationship Epiphany) (CreateSpace, $10.95).

This is not your typical relationship tome; Mr. Darné strips away any illusions people conjured up about their relationships and removes unrealistic expectations.

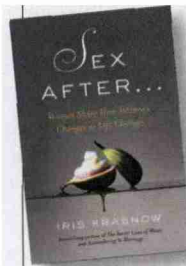

THE PEOPLE FACTOR

Whether it's with your lover, mother or co-worker, different relationships see their fair share of strife. To help, author Van Moody's The People Factor (Thomas Nelson, $16.99) specifies how to build great relationships and end bad ones at home, in social networks and at work. It's a concise, practical resource to become more relationally savvy and develop great relationships as well as avoid or adeptly exit bad ones.

SEX AFTER...

Releasing her book this month, author Iris Krasnow takes a peek under the sheets of real women in Sex After... (Gotham Books, $26) to discuss how sex changes after lives are touched by events beyond our control. What is sex like after adultery, divorce, menopause, cancer, AIDS, Viagra and widowhood? Featuring stories from women from ages 20 to 88, Sex After... is a candid discussion about the many phases of intimacy.
